

HONOURS AWARDS

March 9, 2018

Ms. Alison Sayers
 Chair for the Regional District of Central Coast
 PO Box 186
 Bella Coola, BC V0T 1C0

Dear Ms. Sayers:

Re: Order of British Columbia ~ 2018 Call for Nominations

The call for nominations for the Order of British Columbia is now open, and we encourage you to nominate someone for this prestigious honour. We would also be grateful for your assistance in informing your regional district and stakeholder groups about this opportunity.

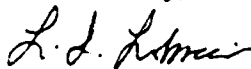

An independent Advisory Council chaired by the Chief Justice of British Columbia considers nominations to the province's highest honour for excellence and outstanding achievement. Four hundred and eighteen distinguished British Columbians have been appointed to the Order since 1990.

Nomination forms for the Order are available online or by emailing the Honours and Awards Secretariat in Victoria at bchonoursandawards@gov.bc.ca. This year completed nominations must be received by the Secretariat by Monday, April 16, 2018. Nominations received after this date will be considered in 2019.

As well as the Order of B.C., people may nominate individuals for the province's other honour, the Medal of Good Citizenship. This medal recognizes citizens for their exceptional long-term service, and contributions to their communities without expectation of remuneration or reward. The medal reflects their generosity, service, acts of selflessness and contributions to community life. Nominations are accepted year round and can be found here.

Your continued support of the provinces' highest honours, the Order of British Columbia and Medal of Good Citizenship, is very much appreciated.

Yours sincerely,

Lucy Lobmeier
 Secretary

Good day,

As Member of Parliament for Lakeland, I'm tabling Motion 167 in the House of Commons asking the Standing Committee on Public Safety and National Security to assess crime in rural communities across Canada. I have included a copy of the motion below:

M-167—Shannon Stubbs—That the Standing Committee on Public Safety and National Security be instructed to undertake a study on rural crime in Canada and consider factors, including but not limited to: (i) current rural crime rates and trends; (ii) existing RCMP and other policing resources and policies in rural, remote, and Indigenous communities, particularly in relation to population density, policing geographic area, and staff shortages; (iii) current partnerships with provincial and municipal police; (iv) possible recommendations to improve rural crime prevention and to curb emerging crime rates, and that the committee report its findings to the House within six months of the adoption of this motion.

I am concerned with the increasing rural crime rates not only in my home province of Alberta but across the country. In 2015, police reported crime in Canada increased for the first time in over a decade, and it increased again in 2016. Canada needs a formalized study in order to reduce rural crime rates and protect citizens across the country.

We are requesting either a letter or an email of support with a simple 1-2 line statement. I have provided below a sample of one statement given to us:

Rural crime has become an increasing issue in (PROVINCE) much like most of Canada. As a municipality we are doing our best to support our community and our neighbors but there are limits to our resources and authority. We appreciate these concerns being addressed and would like to extend support to Motion-167 (INSERT QUOTE FROM YOUR AREA).

If you would be willing to write a letter of support or make a statement like the one above please send it to Shannon.Stubbs.A4@parl.gc.ca. You can also call my office directly at 613-992-4171 to make a statement which we can record for you.

Thank you for your consideration and your support.

Bonjour,

À titre de députée de Lakeland, je dépose la motion 167 à la Chambre des communes, demandant au Comité permanent de la sécurité publique et nationale de faire une évaluation de la criminalité dans les communautés rurales partout au Canada. La motion est la suivante :

M-167—Shannon Stubbs—Que le Comité permanent de la sécurité publique et nationale reçoive instruction d’entreprendre une étude sur la criminalité en milieu rural au Canada et de se pencher sur les éléments suivants, entre autres : (i) les taux et les tendances de la criminalité en milieu rural à l’heure actuelle, (ii) les ressources et les politiques actuelles de la GRC et des autres corps policiers dans les collectivités rurales, éloignées et autochtones, en ce qui concerne en particulier la densité de la population, l’aire géographique relevant du corps policier et les pénuries de personnel, (iii) les partenariats actuels avec les corps policiers provinciaux, municipaux et autochtones, (iv) les mesures qui pourraient favoriser la prévention du crime et freiner le taux de la criminalité, et que le Comité fasse rapport de ses constatations à la Chambre dans les six mois suivant l’adoption de cette motion.

RE: Update on the Working Group on Responsible Conduct

Dear Mayor and Council, Chair and Board and Chief Administrative Officers:

This letter provides an update on the status of the work being undertaken by the Working Group on Responsible Conduct (Working Group).

Responsible conduct -- which broadly refers to how local government elected officials conduct themselves with their elected colleagues, with staff, and with the public -- continues to be an important topic of interest in British Columbia. In fall 2016, the Working Group was formed to better understand issues related to responsible conduct and to explore how British Columbia's responsible conduct framework could be further strengthened. The Working Group is a staff level committee with members from the Union of British Columbia Municipalities (UBCM), the Local Government Management Association (LGMA) and the Ministry of Municipal Affairs and Housing (MAH).

At the 2017 UBCM Convention, UBCM members endorsed a policy paper prepared by the Working Group that included several recommendations to strengthen British Columbia's responsible conduct framework. The Working Group has since been collaboratively working to start implementing the recommendations.

Foundational principles of responsible conduct are now available for use

As its first priority, the Working Group has identified and defined four foundational principles -- integrity, accountability, respect, and leadership and collaboration -- that can be used as a resource to guide the conduct of both individual elected officials and the collective council/board. While the principles are already reflected in the actions of elected officials in communities across British Columbia, they will be of real value in enhancing everyone's shared understanding of expectations around responsible conduct.

We encourage each of you to use these principles by integrating them into your everyday actions, as well as your governments' policies and practices, as you see fit. As a start, for instance, there may be value in including these principles in information materials for prospective candidates, and in orientation materials for when new councils and boards are elected after October 2018.

Working Group members have begun to integrate the foundational principles into resources, such as education materials for the 2018 general local elections, and will continue to incorporate them into other guidance materials as opportunities arise. The LGMA will also be working with its members to determine how the foundational principles could be further embedded into other local government documents, such as oaths of office, procedure bylaws, and existing codes of conduct, in advance of the 2018 elections.

Board Meeting
MAR 29 2018
CCRD ITEM F(g)

Moving towards developing a code of conduct framework

Moving forward, the Working Group will be focusing on developing a code of conduct framework – that means thinking not just about the content of a code of conduct but also about the mechanisms for implementing such a code.

Developing this framework needs to be done thoughtfully and carefully – it will involve a number of important design choices along the way as important questions are considered about, for example, how a code of conduct is reviewed and adopted, how a code of conduct is enforced, and what happens if it is breached. We know from UBCM’s and LGMA’s consultations with members in spring 2017 that while there is agreement that a code of conduct framework would be useful in enhancing responsible conduct, there is not yet any consensus on the specific design for such a framework.

The Working Group will be focusing on developing the content of a “default” or “model” code of conduct -- which could be of real value as new and returning elected officials come together after the October 2018 elections -- while starting to identify the many design questions that will need to be answered as the complete framework is developed. Input on this work will be sought from UBCM and LGMA members -- specifically about code of conduct content -- in the next few months. For the 2018 UBCM Convention, the Working Group is also aiming to have prepared a critical path of key questions and considerations for the development of a code of conduct framework.

We very much appreciate the collaborative work undertaken by the Working Group to date and expect that the code of conduct framework will be developed thoughtfully, and will lead to an approach that respects the autonomy of local governments, is supported by elected officials and provides confidence for the public.

We look forward to the Working Group’s ongoing collaboration to further strengthen responsible conduct and support the good governance of local governments in British Columbia.

If you have any questions about the Working Group’s activities, please contact any of the member organizations.

Leadership and Collaboration: an ability to lead, listen to, and positively influence others; coming together to create or meet a common goal through collective efforts.

- Demonstrate behaviour that builds and inspires public trust and confidence in local government.
- Calmly face challenges and provide considered direction on the issues of the day, while empowering colleagues and staff to do the same.
- Create space for open expression by others, take responsibility for one's own actions and reactions, and accept the decisions of the majority.
- Accept that it is the equal responsibility of the individual elected official, the council/board as a collective, the community and stakeholders to work together to achieve common goals.
- Be an active participant in ensuring the foundational principles are followed in all local government dealings (e.g., including among elected officials, between council/board members and staff, with community members, with other orders of government, in the decisions of a council/board, and in services and other activities of the local government).

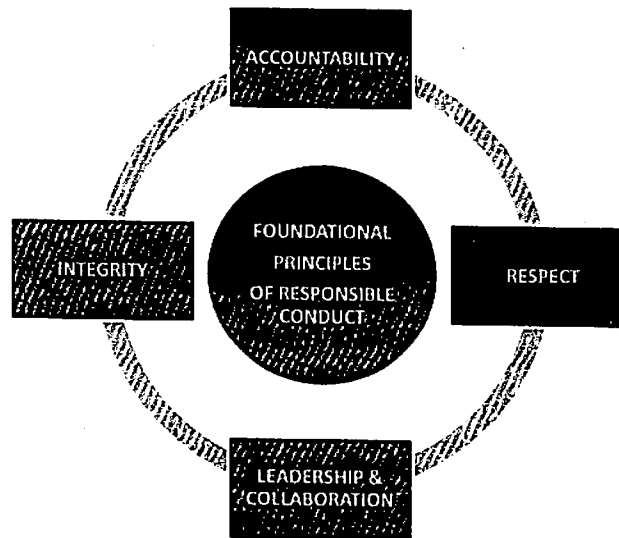

The Working Group on Responsible Conduct is a joint initiative between the UBCM, LGMA and the Ministry of Municipal Affairs & Housing. The Group was formed to undertake collaborative research and policy work around issues of responsible conduct of local government elected officials.

How do the principles "fit" with legal obligations?

It is the duty of elected officials to understand and abide by all legal requirements that apply to elected officials and local governments¹, and nothing in this document should be interpreted as taking precedence over such legal obligations.

Local government elected officials should interpret the principles described below in accordance with the responsibilities and obligations set out in B.C.'s local government legislation, other applicable legislation, the common law and the policies and bylaws of the local government.

¹ Many legal obligations apply to elected officials and local governments, including but not limited to rules about: ethical standards such as conflict of interest; open meetings; protecting confidential information; workplace safety such as harassment; and expenditure of local government funds.

Key Foundational Principles

- ◇ INTEGRITY
- ◇ ACCOUNTABILITY
- ◇ RESPECT
- ◇ LEADERSHIP & COLLABORATION

PRODUCED BY THE WORKING GROUP ON RESPONSIBLE CONDUCT

What are foundational principles?

This document outlines four key foundational principles -- integrity, accountability, respect, and leadership & collaboration -- to guide the conduct of local government elected officials in B.C.

The foundational principles provide a basis for how local government elected officials fulfill their roles and responsibilities, including in their relationships with each other, with local government staff and with the public.

These principles are intended to guide both the conduct of individual elected officials and the collective behaviour of the local government council or board. The principles are also meant to guide local governments in fulfilling their corporate functions and responsibilities to their communities.

Responsible conduct at all of these levels is key to furthering a local government's ability to provide good governance to its community.

"The foundational principles provide a basis for how local government elected officials fulfill their roles and responsibilities, including in their relationships with each other, with local government staff and with the public."

Integrity: being honest and demonstrating strong ethical principles.

- Be truthful, honest and open in all dealings.
- Behave in a manner that promotes public confidence in local government, including actively avoiding any perceptions of conflicts of interest, improper use of office, or unethical conduct.
- Uphold the public interest, serving citizens diligently to make decisions in the best interests of the community.
- Ensure alignment between stated values and actions, including following through on commitments, engaging in positive communication with the community, and correcting errors in a timely, transparent manner.

Accountability: an obligation and willingness to accept responsibility or to account for one's actions.

- Be transparent in how an elected official individually, and a council/board collectively, conducts business and carries out their duties.
- Ensure information is accessible, and citizens can view the process and rationale behind each decision and action, while protecting confidentiality where appropriate or necessary.
- Accept and uphold that the council/board is collectively accountable for local government decisions, and that individual elected officials are responsible and accountable for the decisions they make in fulfilling their roles as council/board members.
- Listen to and consider the opinions and needs of the community in all decision making, and allow for discourse and feedback.

Respect: having due regard for others' perspectives, wishes, and rights; displaying deference² to the offices³ of local government, and the role of local government in community decision making.

- Treat every person, including other members of council/board, staff and the public, with dignity, understanding and respect.
- Show consideration at all times for colleagues and staff, including by honouring people's values, beliefs, ideas, roles, contributions and needs.
- Create an environment of trust, including displaying awareness and sensitivity around comments and language that may be perceived as offensive or derogatory.
- Value the role of diverse perspectives and debate in decision making.
- Act in a way that is respectful of the roles and responsibilities of the offices of Mayor/Chair and Councillor/Director.
- Value the distinct roles and responsibilities of local government staff and the community in local government considerations and operations, and commit to foster a positive working relationship between staff, the public and elected officials.
- Call for and expect respect from the community towards elected officials and staff, and their roles and responsibilities within the local government system.

² Displaying deference is acting in a way that is respectful of both the tradition and legacy enshrined in the various local government positions, as well as their intended functions.

³ 'Offices' of local government refers to the roles/responsibilities of the various roles and positions within the local government system, such as Mayor, Chair, Councillor or Director.

Subject: 2018 Grant Writing Support Funding
Northern Development Project Number 5373 20

The Northern Development Initiative Trust board appreciates your interest and application to the 2018 Grant Writing Support program. The purpose of this funding is to provide grant writing support for priority community projects and to provide assistance to non-profits and First Nations located in or near your community. We are pleased to advise you that your application has been approved for a rebate grant of up to $8,000 toward a community grant writing position, pending your notification to Northern Development of the person hired in this position. This position should be filled by a local candidate with the writing skills to meet the requirements of the program. We look forward to receiving the name of your 2018 grant writer at your earliest convenience. Northern Development is flexible as to when you contract or hire these services during 2018.

The Central Coast Regional District must submit a completed Grant Writing Support program reporting form which can be found on Northern Development's website at <http://www.northerndevelopment.bc.ca/funding-programs/capacity-building/grant-writing-support/>. This report must verify a minimum of $10,500 in wages or contract payments, a minimum of 400 hours spent on grant writing services, and a minimum of $200,000 of grant applications during the approved calendar year. The minimum requirements must be met in order for Northern Development to issue the full $8,000 rebate. Complete reporting is required prior to February 28, 2019.

Central Coast Regional District

Dear Chair and Board Members:

Re: UBCM Membership

I am writing to invite Central Coast Regional District to renew its membership with the Union of B.C. Municipalities (UBCM).

UBCM has served as the voice for local government in British Columbia since 1905. Created by local government to serve local government, our policy-based, non-partisan approach to advocacy has made us the recognized voice for B.C. communities.

Over the past year we have taken a leading role in areas as diverse as cannabis legalization, housing policy and responsible conduct. We have also continued to advocate for a stronger, integrated response to the opioid crisis and a place at the table for local government in the design of new infrastructure programs. 2018 will provide new challenges and opportunities to advance the agenda on these and other issues shared in common by our membership.

Our credibility as an organization is grounded in strong local government support. In 2017 we celebrated the 39th consecutive year that 100% of B.C. local governments have chosen to be members of UBCM. Through the renewal membership by your Board, our aim is to maintain the same level of support from B.C. communities for 2018.

It has been an honour to work on your behalf this past year. If you have any questions or comments about our work, please contact me.

Yours truly,

Wendy Booth, President

Dear Director Alison Sayers,

On behalf of the BC Salmon Farmers Association, please accept a copy of our third annual Sustainability Progress Report and a powerful document developed through engagement with the hard-working women and men engaged in aquaculture and supporting businesses titled Voices of BC's Salmon Farming Community.

We thought it would be important for you to have this important information on our sector as you consider resolutions at the upcoming Association of Vancouver Island and Coastal Communities annual convention in Victoria. We understand there will be two resolutions before delegates regarding the future management of salmon aquaculture in B.C.

Our members are deeply committed to community, transparency and building a greater level of trust with the public. Within the Sustainability Progress Report you will learn how B.C.'s salmon farmers have invested tremendously in their business and through innovation have rapidly advanced practices, resulting improvements in environmental performance.

Farmers raising salmon in B.C. have made great strides in the area of third-party certifications and recommendations. B.C. is now the world's only farming region to have all farm-raised Atlantic salmon recommended as a "good alternative" by the Monterey Bay Aquarium Seafood Watch Program. In addition, 40% of active Atlantic salmon farms have achieved the Aquaculture Stewardship Council's (ASC) salmon standard, and continue to move towards the industry's commitment of being 100% ASC certified by 2020.

B.C. farm-raised salmon is the province's most valued seafood product and agricultural export. It supports over 6,600 jobs and generates more than $1.5 billion towards the provincial economy.

Thank you for taking the time to learn about our industry, we are available anytime for questions that may arise.
